Trunks Get Six Months' Sentence.
Raleigh, N. C., October 3.—At Newbern, N. C., to-dzy, in the Superior Court of Craven county, the case of John Casey and John W. Cooper, the two young men of Goldaboro, N. C., who were arrested several weeks ago on the charge of rifling the trunks of passengers on the Norfolk-Southern Railroad, was taken up.

The young men had secured positions on the road, and were acting as baggagemasters at the time.

Although a soors of witnessess.

We will sell, in front of our auction salesrooms, No. 518 East Broad Street, gagemasters at the time.

Although a score of witnesses were on hand to testify, only a few were examined by Judge Carter to enable him to judge of the extent of the crime.

The men had pleaded the nolo contendere plea, and in consideration of their past good character and that of their family, they received the light sentence of six months in Craven county is.

It was stipulated that they should pay for their own keep while serving sentence, so as not to tax the county with the expense. con of spare wheel, Prestolite tank, head side curtains and complete set of tools
